Re: Declaration of Performance DOP

Detmold, den 27.03.2026

The Declaration of Performance (DOP) is the same as the Declaration of Performance and is reflected in the CE marking for underlayment.

This requires a harmonized standard across all EU member states, which currently does not exist for underlayment. Therefore, there is no CE marking for underlayment. In some cases, underlayment is delivered with a CE marking on the insert, which is not only incorrect but also prohibited. As long as this DOP is not in place, individual countries can establish their own standards or regulations.

In Germany, for example, the Ü mark (DIBt Berlin) for underlayment sets a minimum standard for these building products. And we currently have this Ü mark.

With kind regards
